

UV PURE TECHNOLOGIES INC.

April 2017

You are a Clean-Tech Sales Rockstar...or want to be!

If you are experienced in sales with a passion for clean-tech, we want to meet you! Although, we distribute to many countries, our primary near-term focus is the Canadian and U.S. markets. This is where you come in. To help us accelerate our sales growth, we are looking for an Outside Sales star to pioneer a new US sales territory.

Your responsibilities will include:

- managing existing accounts for growth and developing new business
- presenting to water treatment technology distributors, OEM's, specifying engineering firms, regulators and other influencers. Delivering presentations with confidence is a must!.
- Accurate forecasting and updating of our CRM, Salesforce.com
- Travel will be about 50% including North American and some international trade shows
- when not on the road, you will home-office.

It will be a challenging but very rewarding position, knowing that with each unit sold we are helping to keep people healthy by purifying water.

This position is NOT for everyone. To be successful, you must be able to:

- deliver on sales budgets
- deal with rejection from clients and be persistent enough to stay on task, even when the going gets tough.
- 2 to 5 years of sales experience, ideally with engineered technical products(experience with the US market would be an asset)
- a university degree is important, as is interest or experience in environmental or clean technologies
- excellent written and oral communication skills (English is a must) as well as strong computer and organization skills.

At UV Pure, we are very serious about building our corporate culture. As such, you will be expected to live our core values of: Customer Focus, Teamwork, Results Orientation, a Positive Attitude, and Honesty. If successful, you will be part of a team that is truly making a difference in the world!

UV Pure Technologies is a global award winner, rapidly growing, early-stage company in the water purification industry with proprietary technology that gives our team a unique competitive advantage over our competition. We are positioned to grow aggressively, and we need your help to accelerate our growth! At UV Pure, our purpose is to help cause global health with Pure Safe Water. Always. Our patented Crossfire Technology® is differentiated and advantaged. Learn more about our company and its advanced technology, our many awards and our achievements at www.UVPure.com.

If you are interested please send us your resume and a cover letter explaining why you are a superstar to careers@uvpure.com.
